

Delivering Knowledge

Other ways to work with us

There are many ways we may be able to work together to develop and sell products and services of relevance to the HR community. Here are some, but we are always interested in what you have to say, so get in touch!

Affiliate

You can earn commission by linking to our website from your emails, blog, tweets or anywhere you can add a URL or banner. Join and earn!

Webinars & eLearning

Our website can deliver webinars - if you have training content filmed, or material we can record as audio or video, we can include it in our site and market it.

Trainer

Consultants are often experts in their field and regularly provide training services. If you do any training, we can 'cross-sell' from consulting jobs or promote your expertise as a stand-alone service.

Writing

We can promote and sell downloadable training materials, ebooks, whitepapers etc. Plus we are always interested in knowledgeable writers and bloggers for our magazine website HRreview.co.uk

Join our team

Symposium Events has been producing HR related conferences and training for over ten years. We have produced hundreds of events and trained thousands of HR professionals.

But we want to do more!

We are always looking for experienced professionals with an interesting story to tell. Have you achieved great results in your department? Developed a new model for employee management? Improved performance or reduced absence? Tell us and share your success with fellow HR professionals.

If you have knowledge and experience in HR, we can provide a platform to share your success stories and get your expertise in front of an audience.

Areas of interest

- HR strategy, tools and techniques
- Recruiting, talent management, leadership
- Employee engagement, development
- Organizational structure and analytics
- Employee wellbeing, absence and health
- Process design, HR technology
- Let's hear your ideas?

How we work

We produce approximately ten major HR events each year. To ensure each of these is relevant to an audience of HR professionals, we research new speakers and topics every year. Speakers may be practicing HR professionals, academics or other experts in particular areas of HR.

Each event is unique, 'hand-crafted' and bespoke – we want to make each one a learning experience of value to every delegate. So, if you can bring your knowledge and experience to help build a great conference, we want to hear from you!

What we offer

Our conferences are promoted in blogs, news releases, emails and other media, so your profile will be widely seen by other HR professionals. Using these channels, we can help you build a professional profile demonstrating that you are an HR expert at the cutting edge of your profession.

You will also get the opportunity to take part in a great event, learning from and sharing with peers who have similar interests and face similar professional challenges. A great networking opportunity as well as a great learning opportunity.

“Speaking at a Symposium conference is a great way to share your knowledge, network with peers and enjoy a day out of the office!”

FAQ

Why should I speak?

Well, first, you will get to attend a great event for free and bring a colleague as a free guest. In addition, you will be able to demonstrate your expertise, share your successes, network, and build your professional profile.

Who owns the IP?

You retain full ownership of the IP for the material you provide. However, we do need to publish the presentations for our delegates and we may record or film the conference, so we ask you to accept this usage policy and don't reveal any state secrets!

Will I get paid?

We do not pay speakers at our conferences but we do offer you a free guest place worth several hundred pounds for a colleague.
