

Delivering Knowledge

Other ways to work with us

There are many ways we may be able to work together to develop and sell products and services of relevance to the HR community. Here are some, but we are always interested in what you have to say, so get in touch!

Affiliate

You can earn commission by linking to our website from your emails, blog, tweets or anywhere you can add a URL or banner. Join and earn!

Webinars & eLearning

Our website can deliver webinars - if you have training content filmed, or material we can record as audio or video, we can include it in our site and market it.

Trainer

Consultants are often experts in their field and regularly provide training services. If you do any training, we can 'cross-sell' from consulting jobs or promote your expertise as a stand-alone service.

Writing

We can promote and sell downloadable training materials, ebooks, whitepapers etc. Plus we are always interested in knowledgeable writers and bloggers for our magazine website HRreview.co.uk

But we want more!

We are expanding our service portfolio and keen to recruit experienced, knowledgeable and reliable HR consultants to add to our team of freelance and independent experts.

If you have knowledge and experience in providing HR consulting products and services, we can provide marketing and infrastructure support to get our expertise in front of an audience.

Areas of interest

- HR strategy, tools and techniques
- Recruiting, talent management, leadership
- Employee engagement, development
- Organizational structure and analytics
- Employee wellbeing, absence and health
- Process design, HR technology
- Let's hear your ideas?

How we work

We work with partners to offer products and services as Symposium. That means we quality check your experience and track record and incorporate your services in to our marketing and promotional activities.

Branded as Symposium, your products or service will benefit from joining an established stable of offerings delivered by an organisation that is well known in the HR field.

What we offer

Symposium brings its marketing reach and expertise to create an audience for your skill set.

In addition to all the marketing, we handle all the contracts, client invoicing, payment collection, travel arrangements, documentation printing and customer service issues, leaving you free to focus on delivering superb advice, What's more - after doing all that we will even pay you a fee!

“Consulting for Symposium is a great way to put your HR expertise to work!”

FAQ

Am I an employee?

No. We use freelance and independent consultants who are experts in their field. If the expertise you offer appeals to our customers, then you can expect regular repeat work - but you remain free to pursue your other interests.

Who owns the IP?

You retain full ownership of the IP for the material you provide. However, we do need you to license us to use and sell - otherwise we cannot act on your behalf. Our license terms are non-exclusive so you won't be restricted in offering your services to other customers in any way.

How do I get paid?

We pay a fee for each job you undertake for us. This can be a flat rate for the project or time related – depending on the deal with the customer.
